

December 17, 2008
UMV: 3,929,147

4 Last-Minute Holiday Travel Bargains

If you've waited until now to plan your holiday travel, you might actually be in luck. Last-minute travelers tend to get great deals and perks like bonus points, air credits and free rental cars from airlines, hotels and companies looking to get the squeeze the most business out of what will by all accounts be a lousy season.

NBC Travel Editor Peter Greenberg offers up the best deals he has found this season:

3. FAMILY TRIPS

Kids Stay, Play and Eat Free in Antigua, with air credit: The Verandah Resort & Spa and St. James's Club & Villas, two eco-friendly, upscale family resorts, grant parents' vacation wishes with a new holiday "Kids Stay, Play and Eat Free" program. This program allows up to two children to stay and dine free per room when sharing the same accommodations with their parents, with a maximum of two adults and two children per room. Rates start at $635 based on double occupancy. All food, beverages, room accommodations, activities, non-motorized water sports, taxes and gratuities are included and air credit of $2,000 is available Dec. 23, 2008 – Jan. 3, 2009.