

April 1, 2009

WORLD WATCH.

-The Caribbean Tourism Organization reports that interest remains high in the Caribbean, particularly within North America, where the core of the region's tourist arrivals originate. Tourist arrivals to the Caribbean steadily increased in 2008 from the previous year. With a total of nearly 2.5 million Canadian visitors, the Canadian tourism market accounted for 14% growth overall, according to the CTO. (Special to TA)