Agenda for a Sustainable and Competitive European Tourism

Member states response

Growing recognition and interest

- Massive change in the position of environmental issues on the world's agenda
  - Growing recognition of the special relationship between tourism and sustainable development.
Tourism = “An economic force that depends on and rewards intact environments and positive social interaction”
  - Encouraging signs of business response – CSR; supply chain pressure
  - Markets seeking intact environments and increasingly aware of impact of travel
- ▶ SUSTAINABILITY IS MAINSTREAM

UNWTO - 12 AIMS

1. Economic viability
2. Local prosperity
3. Employment quality
4. Social equity
5. Local control
6. Visitor fulfilment
7. Community wellbeing
8. Cultural richness
9. Physical integrity
10. Biological diversity
11. Resource efficiency
12. Environmental purity

Aims

1 Economic prosperity

- a. To ensure the long term competitiveness, viability and prosperity of tourism enterprises and destinations.
- b. To provide quality employment opportunities, offering fair pay and conditions for all employees and avoiding all forms of discrimination.

2 Social equity and cohesion

- a. To enhance the quality of life of local communities through tourism, and engage them in its planning and management
- b. To provide a safe, satisfying and fulfilling experience for visitors, available to all without discrimination by gender, race, religion, disability or in other ways.

3 Environmental and cultural protection

- a. To minimise pollution and degradation of the global and local environment and the use of scarce resources by tourism activities.
- b. To maintain and strengthen cultural richness and biodiversity and contribute to their appreciation and conservation.

Key global challenges

- Managing rapid growth
- Climate change – adaptation and mitigation
- The fundamental conundrum of the impact of tourism transport
- Poverty alleviation through tourism
- Pressure on water and other scarce resources
- Raising funds for conservation through tourism
- Concerns about health, safety and security

Partners for strategy and implementation

- Relevant government departments and agencies
- Regional and local authorities
- Different segments of the tourism industry—hotel associations, tour operator bodies, etc.
- International travel trade
- The transport sector (all forms)
- Environmental and community-based NGOs
- Cultural heritage bodies
- National parks and other protected areas
- Tourism/recreation user groups
- Civil society (not in tourism but affected by it)
- Universities and other bodies involved with tourism education and training
- Trade (labour) unions

Instruments for making tourism more sustainable

Measurement instruments

- Sustainability indicators
- Identifying limits

Command and Control

- Legislation, regulations
- Land use planning

Economic instruments

- Taxes and charges
- Financial incentives

Voluntary instruments

- Guidelines and codes
- Reporting and auditing
- Voluntary certification
- Voluntary contributions

Supporting instruments

- Infrastructure provision
- Capacity building
- Marketing and information services

Application of instruments to coastal tourism issues

Coastal development chaos - Albania

Strict planning and regulations - Maldives

Carrying capacity - Malta

Coastal zoning - Red Sea Initiative

Management of beaches - Mombassa

Targeted funding – Rimini, Italy

Home

Welcome to the Cornwall Sustainable Tourism Project (CoAST) website. We work with everyone involved in tourism in Cornwall to ensure tourism delivers social, economic and environmental benefit to Cornwall, as well as a fantastic holiday for all our visitors.

It's all about One Planet Tourism: Cornwall's a fantastic place to visit, to live and to work; it's even better when we do it within our resources.

And we absolutely believe that as there isn't one single way of making everything right overnight, that every single small thing adds up to make that big difference.

Small steps. Big impact.

A sustainable tourism industry in Cornwall: one hotel, one campsite, one boat-ride, one meal, one journey, one visitor, one holiday at a time.
